

DISPLAY OF THE CODE OF ETHICS (COE) AND THE CODE OF ETHICS (COE) LICENSE

DISPLAY OF THE CODE OF ETHICS {COE} DOCUMENT

It is not mandatory for an APEX Member website to display the Code of Ethics {COE} document.

- a) You may create their own Ethics Policy or display none at all however Code of Ethics {COE} documents displaying 20% and above of the identical content of the original Code of Ethics {COE} content must also display the relevant Creative Commons 3.0 Attribution Non-commercial Share Alike License as well as providing a link to the Award Community News under the terms of the License.

{Refer to the online APEX Membership Requirements page for further details on the correct display of the Code of Ethics {COE}}

- b) The Code of Ethics {COE} document may not be covered by any individual web site Copyright.

CLARIFICATION - The original Spirit of the Code of Ethics {COE} was and is that individuals, groups and / or organizations worldwide could have freely available a flexible standard format which could be used as the backbone of ethical websites. No individual, group and / or organization can or should own such a vehicle.

HOW DO I DECIDE IF I NEED TO DISPLAY THE CODE OF ETHICS (COE) LICENSE?

The display of 20% or more of the identical content of the original ' stripped ' Code of Ethics (COE) content means the Creative Commons License must be displayed.

If you have chosen to display 20% or more of the identical content of the original ' stripped ' Code of Ethics (COE) content even though it has been remixed, tweaked and / or translated (for ones own use) it is required that the Creative Commons License (as follows) be displayed at the bottom of Code of Ethics (COE) documents.

The display of 19.99% or less of the identical content of the original ' stripped ' Code of Ethics (COE) content means the Creative Commons License does not need to be displayed.

Word Definition - Our use of the word ' stripped ' means upper case words such as I, WE, NAME/S, AND, OR, CO-OWNERS, MY, OUR, WEB SITE, MYSELF, OURSELVES, YOUR and TITLE within our sample text version copy of the original Code of Ethics (COE) have been removed.

DISPLAY OF THE CODE OF ETHICS {COE} LICENSE

The Code of Ethics (COE) is licensed under a Creative Commons 3.0 Attribution Non-commercial Share Alike License with credit being given to Award Community News in accordance with the terms of the License.

You may download a choice of relevant .jpg and .png Creative Commons License images from here.

You may download a sample text version of the original Code of Ethics (COE) from here.

You may create your own Code of Ethics (COE) version using the sample text file provided. (WinZip or WinRAR are required to open the compressed files.)

The License should be displayed at the bottom of your Code of Ethics (COE) document using the graphic and the appropriately placed links below.

Link 1: The URL to be linked to the Creative Commons 3.0 Attribution Non-commercial Share Alike United States License image is:
(<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/3.0/us/>)

Link 2: The URL to be linked to the site title Award Community News is:
(<http://www.atgp.nl/news/>)

Your license will look like this:

The Code of Ethics (COE) is licensed under a Creative Commons 3.0 Attribution Non-commercial Share Alike License with credit being given to Award Community News in accordance with the terms of the License.

If you wish to read the License prior to use please access this Creative Commons 3.0 Attribution Non-commercial Share Alike United States License link.

